Glenn opened the meeting with devotions entitled “Leaders Organize So They Don’t Have To Agonize”. Leadership in the church can be a challenging responsibility. Prayer and devotion guides us when making decisions that may impact the lives of our church and congregation.

Open Comments:

Amanda Rossell met with Rhonda Putnam to discuss the job description and wages. Rhonda agreed with the information presented but had a follow-up question. Kara Kreis, and Amanda Rossell reviewed the 2025–2026 janitorial budgets with the council, noting an increase. Adjustments to the budget will be made as necessary.

Minutes:

The February 10, 2026 minutes were reviewed. A motion to approve the minutes as published in the March newsletter was made by Kara Kreis and seconded by Glenn Finke. The motion carried.

Treasurer’s Report:

Monthly expenses remained consistent. Lenten and Sunday offerings have been strong, for which we are grateful. All bills have been paid.

Pastor’s Report: presented by Amanda Rossell. The Wednesday evening Holden Lenten services continue to have strong attendance. Further discussion will take place regarding how the Lenten service offerings will be designated.

- Palm Sunday will be observed on March 29, 2026. The service will begin at 9:45 a.m. and will include a palm branch and donkey processional.

- Good Friday services will be held on April 3, 2026, in conjunction with the Methodist Church at their location.

- The Synod Assembly is scheduled for May 29–31, 2026. ALC will be represented by one female delegate; a male delegate is still needed.

- As part of the retirement transition, the north parsonage kitchen and bathroom require updates and renovation. These improvements will help make the property more suitable when seeking a future minister.

Hospitality & Outreach:

Discussion was held regarding the best way to keep a church key with a committee member residing in Gothenburg.

- A cookie social will be held on Palm Sunday during Linger Longer. Cookies will be provided by both committee members and congregation members. Those interested in buying cookies can select and purchase their own. Proceeds will benefit the food pantry or other American Lutheran Church committee needs. A sign-up sheet is available on the hospitality desk for those wishing to bring cookies.

Thank you to those who assist with delivering home communion.

Discussions included entering a float in this year’s Harvest Festival parade. Many factors must be considered, and further discussion will be held.

Planning for a progressive supper to celebrate American Lutheran Church's anniversary was also discussed.

Youth & Family:

The committee is finalizing plans for the Easter breakfast, which will be held on Easter Sunday between the two church services. They are also preparing a special celebration for high school seniors on Senior Sunday to honor their achievements and contributions to our church community.

Music & Worship

The new organ pipes for the front of the church have been completed. We are currently planning for their installation, which may take place in May.

Property:

Planning to install one-way blinds in the nursery windows so you can look out without being seen inside.

Restroom renovations continue to progress smoothly.

All rooftops will be replaced this spring.

With spring and summer approaching, lawn mowing sign-up sheets will be posted.

Seven new balcony pews are scheduled for installation around May 20, 2026.

Tammy McMichael, Secretary

Everyone says it's hard to find good help these days, but we caught Pastor Doug helping peel clementines for JAM when someone had to be gone.

The grass is starting to green up and you know what that means. It will be time to start mowing the church lawn again. You can sign-up in April to mow the church lawn for a month this summer at the Welcome Center stand.

We will be getting new pews in the balcony in the middle of May. If you would be interested in having one of the old pews, please contact a property committee member: Glenn Finke, Lloyd Hicken, Bob Ronnekamp, Corey Rossell, or Ken Christensen.

We celebrated Palm Sunday with a real live donkey and palms for a procession around the block. Thank you to Scott and Rhonda Russman for sharing Chrissy the donkey with us.

We took our palms indoors for the singing of “All Glory, Laud, and Honor” and raised our palm leaf crosses for “Lift High the Cross” at the end.

“Did You Know?”

A couple of months ago, we started this series of articles to share some of the history and symbolism of the American Lutheran Church sanctuary, which was dedicated in 1954, but which has been updated several times, especially over the past twenty-five years. We began by looking at the art glass windows on the east aisle. Today, because we are nearing the time of Holy Week and Easter, we turn to a different aspect of the building. (We will continue with the series on the windows in future months.)

In 2002, in honor of the 50th anniversary of the founding of the congregation, the nave (the central gathering space of a church, named in analogy to a ship) was remodeled and the original flooring was replaced. Our architect, Victor Aufdemberge of Grand Island, suggested a design element that was somewhat unique in our area, as far as I know. He proposed that the three aisles of the church consist largely of purple tiles (with some lighter diamond accents), giving us a “purple” pathway to the front of the worship space.

I was reminded of this when Pastor Doug Hjelmstad shared a children’s message a few weeks ago and told us about purple as a traditional color of royalty. Purple was a difficult, rare color to produce in the ancient world, and so it was usually reserved for people of power or wealth. For example, in the gospel of John (19:1-5), Jesus was mocked by being given a crown of thorns and a purple robe by the soldiers who arrested and beat him. They ridiculed Jesus as “King of the Jews” as he was condemned and executed.

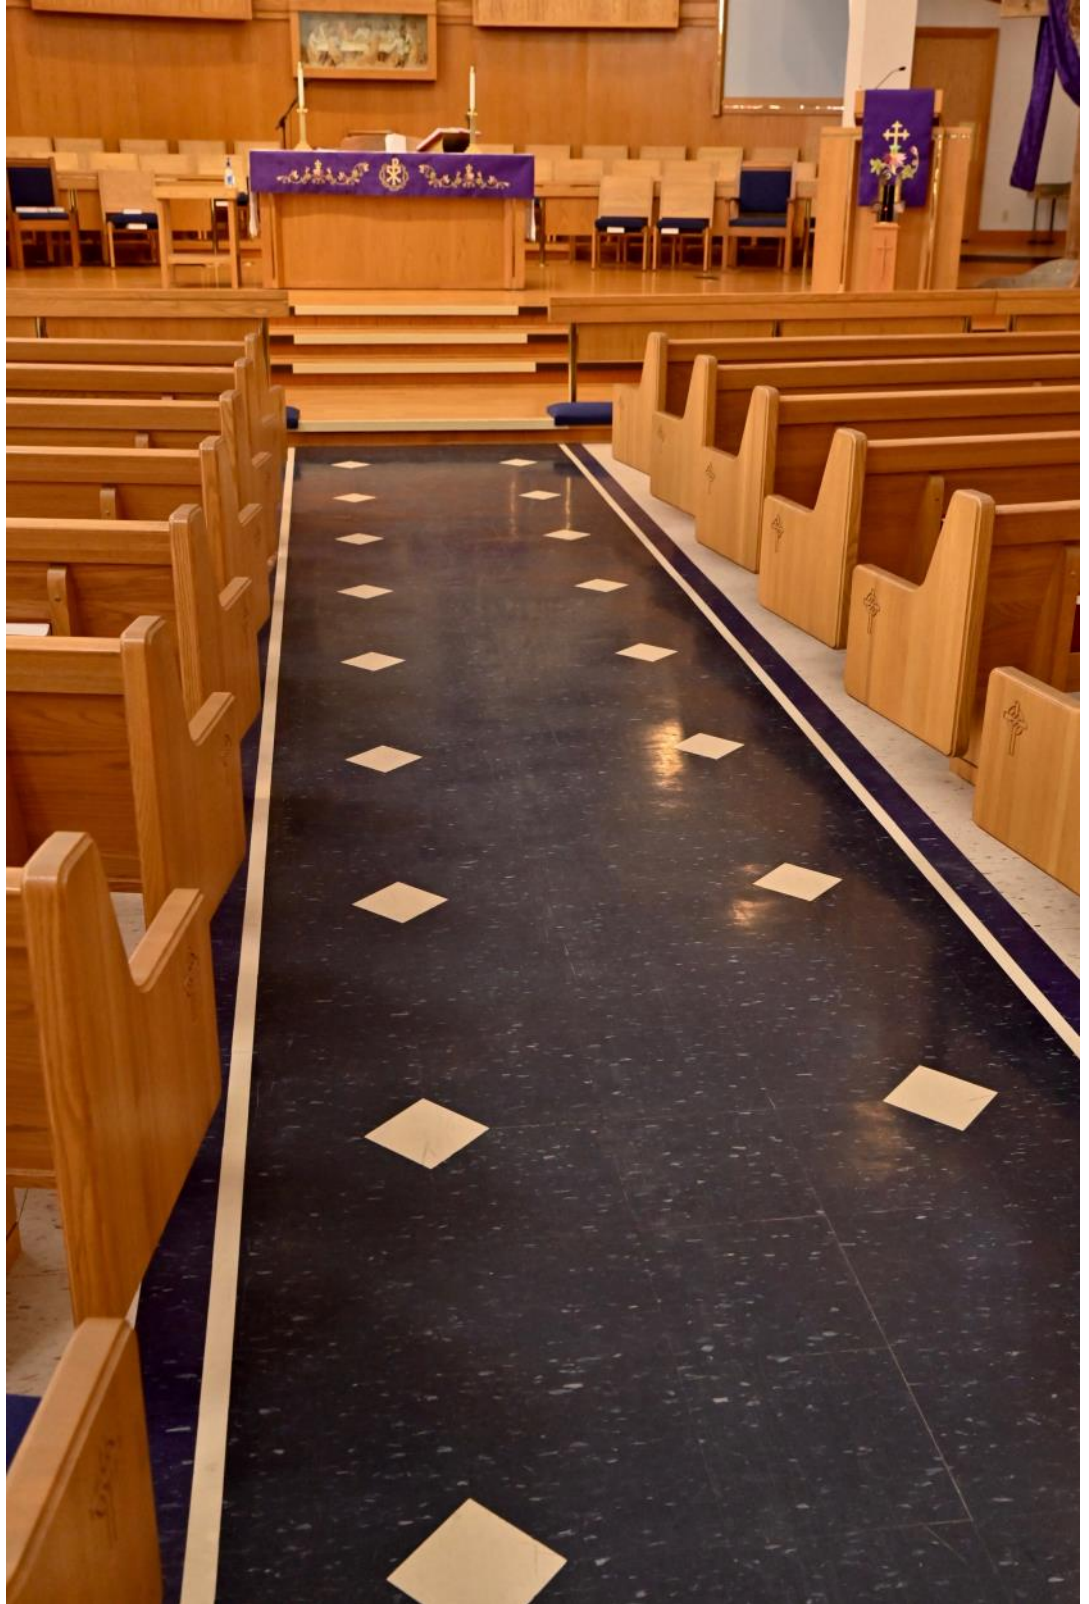

The irony of the gospel story is that Jesus is called “king” and dressed in purple as an act of mockery, and yet the hurtful words are actually bearers of the truth. We trust Jesus is the Christ and the Son of God, both titles that reveal his royal identity.

So when Jesus comes into Jerusalem on a donkey he is acclaimed as King (Palm Sunday), and when he is crucified (Good Friday), Pilate has the cross marked with the inscription, “Jesus of Nazareth, King of the Jews.” When we gather at American Lutheran Church, the purple-hued aisle leads us symbolically to the cross (wrapped in purple during Lent), and we are reminded that the true king’s identity is not derived from “this world” where royalty is defined by pomp and circumstance. The true king is the one whose reign is marked by self-giving love, as Jesus lays down his life for all.

Thus, you see that even as we walk down our purple aisle, we are on God's road of royalty. But it is not the road of domination and empire; it is the humble pathway of the one who truly deserved to wear a purple robe in anticipation of the hour when he cried "It is finished!" from the cross.
